

It was a lovely sunny day for a good crowd of visitors to enjoy the wonderful scene and scent from the exhibits at the Spring Show this year. Despite the previously cold and wet weather the exhibitors had produced some excellent blooms and the numbers were almost as high as the previous year. Entries in sections for other plants was disappointingly low probably because our main exhibitors were involved in the organisation. The section for a photograph of weather was very well supported as was the excellent provision of cakes in the tea room.
